授業の内容

[授業の概要]

This course is for second year students and above. There are no specific requirements for taking this course. Students will have opportunities to better their vocabulary and grammar skills along with practicing pronunciation through class activities.

Students taking this class are encouraged to have a positive attitude towards working closely with group peers and to not be afraid of making mistakes in conversation. In addition to a textbook, authentic video activities and news story readings will sometimes be used. Students are expected to attend regularly, participate in group work, and enjoy building listening and speaking skills in English. After taking this course, we hope that students will look forward to using everything they learned in real life.

この科目の到達目標

In this course, students will

- gain confidence in their English speaking and listening abilities.
- be able to use basic English skills in group discussions.
- improve their English spoken fluency.
